Becker, Voecks At Meet

President C. H. Becker and Dr. Walter Voecks, chairman of the Board of Regents, will attend a meeting of the American Lutheran Church Board of Higher Education in Chicago Wednesday and Thursday.

Needs of the ALC schools for the next seven years will be presented at the meeting, which will be held at the Maryland Hotel. Attending will be presidents and chairmen of the boards of regents from ALC schools.

Wartburg's needs include the library and chapel-auditorium in the immediate future. In 1960 the erection of a science building at an estimated $800,000 is planned. Also included in expansion plans up to 1965 are another men's dormitory, women's dormitory and women's gymnasium.

A student body numbering one thousand is the goal for 1960. To reach this, approximately fifty students will be added each year. Physical facilities will not be over-crowded for the sake of growth, however, according to President Becker.

MORE BUILDINGS like Clinton Hall, new men's dorm, will be discussed at the Chicago meeting this week. Work on the dorm is progressing rapidly and will be ready for next fall.

Choice Of Four SB Projects

Vote This Week In Convocation

By Wilbur Flachman

Four proposals will be offered to the Student Body in Tuesday's convo for selection of this year's Student Body Project.

Several ideas were presented and discussed by project chairman Bill Jurgens, senior, in the Student Body meeting Thursday. Jurgens announced the final four choices Thursday night, after suggestions underwent a final screening by his committee.

PROPOSAL NO. 1 will be the purchasing of a bulletin board. The board, as originally intended, will be an out-of-doors structure with a shelter over it. It will also feature a directory of all campus buildings and offices.

Choice No. 2 will be the purchase of new scoreboards for Knights Gymnasium. Plans under this proposal would be to buy a scoreboard for each side of the gym. The present clock in the gym is owned in partnership with Waverly High School. Plans are to sell this scoreboard to the high school if possible, said Jurgens.

'W' CLUB INVESTIGATED the possibility of donating a scoring system earlier this year. However, Nelson Bose, 'W' club president, stated that these plans failed to materialize and his organization has voted to erect a glass-covered bulletin board in the gymnasium lobby.

Third selection would be to aid in furnishing the lounge of new Clinton Hall for men. The final proposal is to originate a fund for the addition of a swimming pool in Knights Gym.

In addition to these ideas, the committee is still studying the possibility of providing furnishings for the new library.

ALSO AT THE MEETING Thursday, Student Welfare Chairman Jim Schwarz officially launched the "Textbooks for Korea" campaign. The drive for used books for Korean colleges will be held this coming Monday and Tuesday, according to Schwarz.

Phil Moeller presented a further report on renewing the lecture series. Moeller stated that two programs have already been tentatively planned for next year and that his committee is going ahead to make the lectures possible.

AND FINALLY — Harry James will be here April 15 for the Pops concert. Student Body President John Adix said at the meeting that the contract had been signed by Pops Chairman Don Hamilton, and returned to James.

Agenda for Monday's senate meeting will include the discussion of locating a public telephone in the Student Union. Also Activities Chairman Herbie Hafermann will present the possibility of having student refreshments and entertainment following the Wesleyan game Feb. 21.

Welfare Group Discusses Check-Out Plan For Men

Possibilities for a check-out system for men and compulsory laundry service for the new dorms were discussed at the Monday night meeting of the Faculty-Student Welfare Committee.

Heading a variety of items considered by the Welfare Committee, the plans for student life in the new men's dorm were discussed by Earnest Oppermann, dean of students and chairman of the committee. According to Oppermann, the compulsory check-out trend is being followed in several colleges throughout the country.

Laundry service would only be compulsory in the new dormitories and would remain on a voluntary basis in the older housing establishments. This plan is in use only on a voluntary basis now.

The present system of placing men in housing units was also discussed.

In other committee work this week, Jim Schwarz, junior, chairman of the senate Student Welfare Committee, announced a "Textbooks for Korea" drive for the Wartburg campus. The drive, which is being conducted in conjunction with a national drive for books for Korean colleges, is sponsored by the Korean-American Scholarship Committee.

Solicitations for books will be conducted in all housing units, or books may be left in the Student Senate room during the three days.

Bids For Library Will Be Let Soon

Bids for the proposed library will be let Feb. 26. The $250,000 to $300,000 building will have a total seating capacity of 341, with stacks holding 65,000 books.

Eleven general contractors, as well as four plumbing and heating contractors and four electrical contractors, have indicated they will participate.

According to Business Manager H. C. Engelbrecht, the college has completed the purchase of the land where it will be constructed. The house previously owned by Miss Anna Elsa Jacob, former Wartburg faculty member, is now for sale and must be moved before the contractor starts construction later this year.

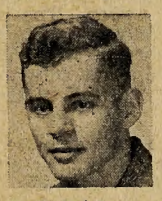
Day Of Prayer Set Tomorrow

Sunday is Universal Day of Prayer for Students at Wartburg. Sponsored by Lutheran Student Association, the observance is intended to bring all Christian student organizations together in a service of prayer and rededication to Christ.

Services will be held in Danforth Chapel at 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 p.m., each lasting one-half hour.

Board Picks New Editors For 1958-59

Editors for the three campus publications have been named for the 1958-59 school year. Elected by the student-faculty publications committee Tuesday, the new editors will take office next fall.



Schaley

Elected as editor in chief of the Trumpet, student newspaper, is Ed Schaley, junior. Editing the '59 Fortress, college yearbook, will be junior Larry Everett, while Bob Mayer, sophomore, will be in charge of the Castle, campus literary magazine.

FROM CLINTON, SCHALEY is a liberal arts student with a major in English. At present

Everett

he is serving as news editor of the Trumpet. In addition, he has had experience on the staffs of both the Fortress and the Castle, and is a member of Alpha Phi Gamma, honorary journalism fraternity.

Future Fortress head Everett is from Clinton, Okla. Majoring in history, he is on the liberal arts course and plans to enter government service. He is currently serving as associate editor of the yearbook, a position he has held for the past two years.

MAYER, FROM HASTINGS, Minn., is also on the liberal arts course and is majoring in history. He is currently heading World Affairs Forum and writes the "Whirled Affairs" column for the Trumpet.

Meetin' Monday

All Trumpet reporters are reminded of a special staff meeting Monday evening at 7 in the Publications House. All members should be there for a brief but important meeting according to Harold Kurtz, editor.

KNOTEABLE KNIGHTS

It Takes Five To Combo!

By Ed Schaley

"Okay, let's try it with the vocal!"

"Once in a while, will you try to give one little thought . . . "

The vocalist is Joyce Mueller, sophomore from Waverly; the group, "The Knights of Knote," newly organized Wartburg combo. The scene is a Wednesday night rehearsal session.

A look at the five who make the music for school dances such as last night's Valentine ball finds Ross Kirk, junior from Omaha, Neb., at piano; Eddie Skay, freshman from Mound, Minn., providing good tones on the trumpet; and versatile Bill Reints, freshman from Clarksville, who plays trombone by ear and can double on a host of other instruments. This much for the front line.

ADDING THE NECESSARY background and occasional solos to the Knight numbers are Keith Lunde, junior, bass fiddle and tuba man from Monona, and sophomore Larry Roberts, from Mound, Minn., at the all-important drums position.

"We try to play a little Shearing mood, some dixie, a little Latin American beat and some of the old stand-bys that everybody likes. Then we'll probably throw in a few waltzes and polka medley."

In this way, the group's repertoire is aptly described by Ross Kirk, who organized the Knights at the beginning of the school year.

KNIGHTS OF KNOTE are Ross Kirk at the piano, Ed Skay on trumpet, Bill Reints on trombone, Keith Lunde on bass and Larry Roberts at the drums.

Kirk was a member of last year's school combo. He likes to sit in at the drums whenever he can, and favors the music of George Shearing, noted English pianist, in his lighter moments at the keyboard.

A REMARKABLE FEAT was accomplished by Reints, who plays a terrific trumpet, when he picked up trombone by ear to round out the group's sound. When he and Skay led out on Clyde McCoy's "Sugar Blues" at a recent school dance, the crowd stood still and listened.

SINCE THE MEMBERS of the "Knights of Knote" are also Wartburg Band members, they have been asked by their director, Ernest Hagen, to play as a group during the concert programs of the band tour, March 21-30. The band will tour Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota and South Dakota.

The combo will also play an engagement at Omaha, Neb., during the first week in May. It will provide an informal concert for the Central District Luther League Rally, to be held at Omaha.

Those who enjoy good pop music and some foot-tappin' dixie, will be sure to enjoy the offerings of "The Knights of Knote."

District Group Here

Executive board of Iowa District Women's Missionary Federation will meet here Friday and Saturday. Meetings will be held in Fuchs Lounge of the Student Union.

Dancing – One Year Later

It was a little over one year ago that the Board of Regents gave the go-ahead for on-campus dancing here at Wartburg. This action also legalized off-campus dances.

In the time that has elapsed, many factors have been proven and disproven. Now that passions have cooled on the issue, it is possible to take a more objective look at the entire question.

Both the violent anti-dance and the equally strong-minded pro-dance factions will have to admit they were wrong. The rash predictions made by both sides have shown themselves to be incorrect.

So let's take a calm look at the entire question and see what its status is now, what it may be and what it should be.

There were those who insisted that the introduction of social dancing would lead to absolute moral degeneracy and a complete repudiation of the ideals of Wartburg College. An unbiased view of the matter will show that these fears were groundless and that dancing has had little effect either way.

Then there were those on the other side of the fence — the ones who insisted that dancing would be the final answer on the campus social problem and that the introduction of dancing would answer completely and for all time, all social questions.

This side too will have to admit that it was wrong. While it may be true that some benefit has been derived, it is still far from the final solution.

As for the question of on-campus dancing, that still remains the pertinent issue. In 15 months since the green light was given, a total of two dances have actually been held on the campus itself. In addition, about six or eight have been held off-campus.

If campus dancing is allowed, some place on campus must be found to hold them. This is a question which has been repeatedly raised, investigated and discussed — all to no avail.

There are at present, three possible places — Knights Gym, the Little Theater and the Student Union. Of the three, dancing has been permitted only in one — Knights Gym — and then only during the non-basketball season.

So from this it appears that there's a hopeless bottleneck. Thus far it has been, anyway. However, if student government action is continued, a workable plan may eventually be found.

The Trumpet does not have a workable plan. But the Student Body certainly must have ideas on the subject. The next move is up to the students and student government.

Warren Schmidt Versatile Musician; Teaches, Plays In Church, Concerts

By Grace Jahn

As the last notes of a Bach prelude die away, the congregation begins leafing through hymnals, while from the organ comes an improvised introduction to the first hymn.

This familiar scene takes place every Sunday morning. The congregation is St. Paul's, Waverly; the organist — Wartburg's own Warren F. Schmidt.

Having been organist and choirmaster at three other Lutheran churches, Schmidt came to Wartburg in 1950 and teaches music theory, counterpoint, church music and organ in addition to his duties as organist at St. Paul's.

Starting his career as an organist at the age of 23, Schmidt earned his B.S. from Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, Ill., in 1944 and his M.Mus. from the University of Michigan four years later.

With a Fulbright Scholarship, the organist left Wartburg in 1954 for a year of study at Staatliche Hochschul fur Musik, Frankfort, Germany. Schmidt has also studied at several American conservatories and privately with Frederick Marriottar at the University of Chicago. Summer sessions at the State University of Iowa complete his musical education.

"Practice makes perfect," a useful adage for music students, can apply to Schmidt, for he manages to spend at least two hours a night at his organ plus Saturday afternoon sessions at St. Paul's.

Those who attended the Lutheran World Federation last summer at Minneapolis, undoubtedly heard this musician play there. Chicago, Ill.; Fort Wayne, Ind., and Frankfurt, Germany, are among the places where he has given recitals.

As with any musician, the instrument itself means much.

"The best organist would have a difficult time if the organ itself was not of good quality," explained Schmidt. "One can't expect people to understand something they haven't heard properly," he added.

While in Luebeck, Germany, Schmidt had the opportunity to play an organ built in 1600, and in Hamburg, one built in 1700.

ORGANIST WARREN SCHMIDT is shown in his familiar role at the manual of St. Paul's organ.

Although he believes that the Germans are great organ builders, Schmidt defends the Danish-made organ, which he played in Copenhagen, as among the very best.

Proceeding from the best in organs to the best in organ music, Schmidt stated that he prefers the composers of the 17th and 18th centuries, which he calls the "Golden Age of Lutheran Church Music." The organist votes for the outstanding composer of this baroque period, Bach, as a favorite.

If the reader finds himself listening to a Bach prelude some Sunday morning at St. Paul's, followed by an improvised introduction to the first hymn, he can be nearly certain that the organist for the service is Warren F. Schmidt.

KNIGHT BEAT

by Bob Loslo

The Trumpet proved one thing last week — it pays to advertise. Among the over twenty-five telephone calls was an offer for free pizza at the Circle. Say, girls, there's an idea for ridding yourself of the usual Saturday night Wartburg plague. Place an ad in the Trumpet.

Everybody knows by now that Harry James is current choice for the Pops Concert. The big question is — will he bring Betty Grable with him? I'll bet she doesn't wear long Bermuda stockings.

I'm with you on one thing, though, girls. I think it's abominable to even consider putting a ban on girls' wearing walking shorts on campus. Sure, it's right to ban them for class, but pretty soon you're going to have to check to find out what you can wear on Saturday.

One of these days I'm going to go to a movie where the werewolf doesn't get killed. Then I'll be happy.

One of the bad things about having to write a review of a recent book for an English class is that "Masterplots" hasn't gotten around to publishing a review of the book.

The Trumpet head (no slam intended) is going to have a show on KWAR starting this Monday. It's called "The Editor Speaks," and will give him a chance to praise or blast national, state or Wartburg controversies. Now, you can tune in at 9:45 and find out what is going to happen to Harold Kurtz.

Next week the Waverly Theater is going to feature "The Ten Commandments." That's from the gospel according to Cecil B. DeMille.

And the way the bell system has been all messed up this week, you had your choice, you could come five minutes early, right on time or five minutes late and still beat the gong.

FOOTNOTES TO FAITH

Sputnik, Explorer Show Need For Greater Faith

By Herb Hafermann

"Be still and know that I am God. I am exalted among the nations. I am exalted in the earth."

These words of the Lord, spoken through the mouth of the psalmist, could well be taken as the watchword of our age as well as a guiding force in our personal lives.

Hafermann

Many of the nations of the world, which seem to have a desire to save mankind from destruction, are struggling to build greater and more precise weapons of destruction only for the purpose of maintaining their slight edge in the world struggle for power. The entrance of Sputnik and Explorer only seems to have caused the race to become more intense. In fact, many of our legislators now appear hesitant about voting against or limiting the military budget lest it be said that they wish to weaken our defense.

Educators, too, have raised a cry for more action in this race. They say that we need a much greater emphasis on the training of the younger generation, especially in the area of basic scientific work. The nation as a whole is being alerted to the existence of our failures and needs and is trying to meet these needs in a hurry.

Perhaps Sputnik and Explorer will force us to stop, be still and look up. In this same light, the Russians told our brothers of the faith in Eastern Europe as they watched the first satellite, that Sputnik I had relayed data that proved that there is no God in the Heavens.

Yet as we view Explorer I, perhaps we, who know of God's existence, can come to realize how small man's costly efforts are in comparison with the magniture of universe designed by the Almighty Creator.

While we are looking up in silence and speculating, perhaps we can find time to stop and listen to the call of God in our own lives. In this moment of silence we may be able to say with Samuel, "Speak, Lord, for your servant hears." The moment that we do desist from activity to listen to the voice of God, we shall be able to feel at least a portion of His purpose for us and our personal lives.

We also read where Elijah, while fleeing for his life, sought an answer from the Lord concerning his life. The Lord first caused a great wind to crumble a mountain, after the wind an earthquake and after that a fire. We read, however, that the Lord was not in any of these. Instead, he spoke in a still, small voice, asking "What are you doing here, Elijah?"

As the nation goes rushing on building bigger and better satellites and missiles and seeking to educate those who will build them in the future, there is a need for us to stop and be silent, realizing the majesty of our God. Then in meditation and prayer we can find what the will of God is in our lives, and as college students we can find an answer to the Lord's question, "What are you doing here?"

Axmen Go For Third In Row

Knights At Buena Vista; To Host Wesleyan Fri.

By Duane Schroeder

Trying for their third straight win, the Knights invade Storm Lake tonight to face the Buena Vista Beavers in an Iowa Conference encounter.

Starting a long home stand, the Beavers have made a remarkable comeback in their last few games, winning four out of five before coming up against Iowa Wesleyan and Central last week.

THEIR ONLY LOSS in that streak was to Upper Iowa 83-82. Last week the Beavers hit 41.9 per cent of their field goal attempts against Wesleyan's Tigers, but bowed 102-67. This was the sixth time the Beavers had 100 or more points scored against them by Iowa Conference opponents.

Plagued by bad shooting most of the year, Buena Vista shot 43.5 per cent against Central on the second night of their road-trip, forcing the Dutchmen to hit more than 60 per cent of their shots to win 90-69.

PACED BY BOB Endersbee and Jerry Ibach, guards, the Beavers lost to the Knights, 78-44, earlier in the season when BV was losing six games in a row.

Next Friday the Knights will be seeking revenge against Iowa Wesleyan when they play host to the Tigers in Knights Gym at 7:30.

WESLEYAN DEFEATED the Axmen 87-70 in the first contest between the two clubs earlier this season despite the fact Coach Jack Spencer's crew scored only one more field goal than Wartburg.

Andy Henderson, 6'4" forward, came off the bench, after missing all of the Tigers' earlier games because of a bad knee, and dumped in 16 points to lead Wesleyan to an easy victory.

Potentially one of the top contenders for the conference crown, Spencer can field a team averaging 6'3". Don Gibbs, 6'7" center, has been pacing the Tigers in the scoring columns after capturing the scoring championship last year. Bob Ballard, 6'4" forward, and Bob Gunther, 6'2" guard, are the other big guns for Wesleyan.

IM Play Slacks; Postpone Games

Intramural basketball activity slackened as the two key games of the week were postponed. According to the IM chairman, Fred Jaspers, these games, pitting Vollmer against Grossmann III in the National league and North Hall versus Cotta in the American, will be made up in the near future.

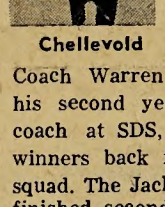
In the six games played during the week, the two teams from Grossmann III monopolized play and scored four victories. Derald Gourley, sophomore, meshed 17 tallies in the Grossmann III, American League, victory over Trailer Courts.

On the IM bowling scene, four teams are still vying for the second-place position. The four clubs, Ritchie's, Oberheu's, Liebau's and Crest-O-Diner, are bunched within a game and a half.

Matmen At Home

Coach Norm Johansen's matmen will be seeking their third win in six tries this afternoon when they meet South Dakota State College in Knights Gym at 2.

Omaha University, the University of Dubuque and Augustana College have downed the Knights in their last three outings.



Chellevold

Wartburg, with a 2-3 overall record will face a veteran South Dakota squad this afternoon. Coach Warren Williamson, in his second year as wrestling coach at SDS, has six letterwinners back from last year's squad. The Jackrabbits recently finished second in the University of Minnesota quadrangular meet at Minneapolis, gathering 66 points to the Gophers' 100.

Augustana matmen remained unbeaten this year when they stopped the Jomen 21-12 last Wednesday. Dick Chellevold, junior and Johansen's second leading scorer last year, returned to action in the Augustana meet for the first time this year.

Chellevold has been out of the line-up since the first of the season due to an attack of virus pneumonia. Wrestling in the 137-pound division, he picked up a tie against Jerry Boyum, Augustana.

Jaspers Honored By Letter Club

Senior Fred Jaspers, of Kensett, was recently named by the W Club as Athlete of The Month.

Jaspers

Jaspers, 6'3", 200-lb. starting forward on the Knights varsity basketball team, received the honor on the basis of his outstanding leadership and consistent play on the hardcourts. Jaspers was cited by the coaches for his aggressive rebounding and excellent play-making.

He is a two sport letterman both in basketball and in baseball. Fred has been the mainstay of Wartburg's pitching staff the last three years. Considered one of the best pitchers in the Iowa Conference, Fred relies on a fast ball to get opponents out.

Active in campus activities, Jaspers is chairman of this year's campus Intramurals Committee.

Mary Thompson New W Club Sports Queen

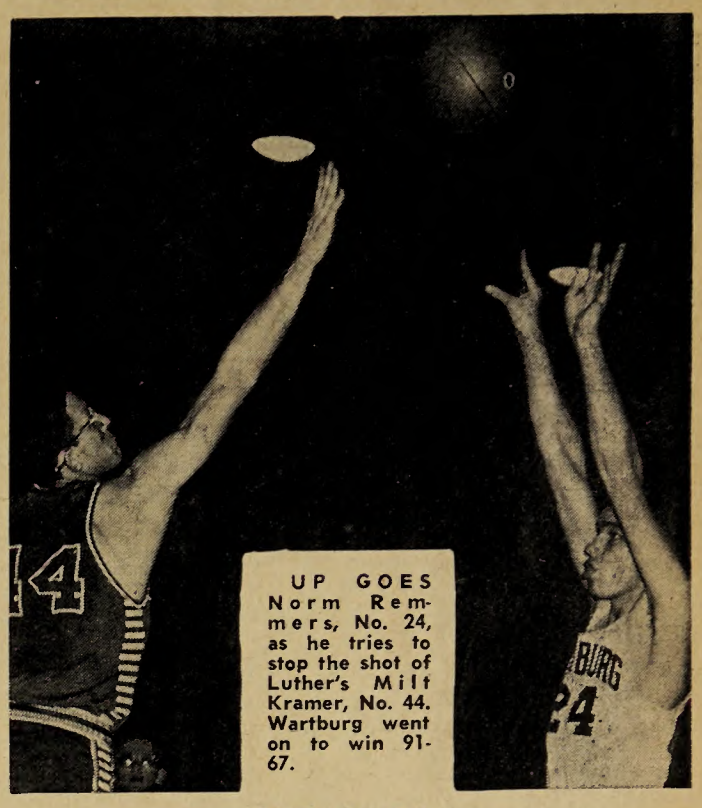
Selected by the W Club, Miss Thompson's attendants were Janet Rueber, freshman from Arlington, and Barbara Knoll, sophomore from Mason City.

Wartburg Stops Luther 91-67 For Eleventh Win



UP GOES Norm Remmers, No. 24, as he tries to stop the shot of Luther's Milt Kramer, No. 44. Wartburg went on to win 91-67.

By Charles Maahs

Displaying their first offensive fireworks of the season, the Wartburg Knights scored a convincing 91-67 victory over the Luther Norsemen, last Tuesday night on the home floor before a capacity crowd.

The Axmen treated the visiting Brotherhood to an exhibition of uncanny marksmanship as they outscored Luther by 20 points in a second half barrage.

WARTBURG QUICKLY JUMPED off to a 12-point lead, led by the deadly jump-shooting of guard Jim Schwarz. Luther rallied with a fast break attack and tied the score at 32-32. Heavy fouling hurt the Knights, but Wartburg recovered for a 43-40 halftime lead.

The second half saw the Axmen dominate both the offensive and defensive play as they methodically manufactured a 20-point lead. Wartburg rode the crest of a 43.5 shooting percentage for the game. Knights also hit 16 straight free throws and a total of 31 of 37 free throw attempts.

FORWARD JOHN ADIX, leading Knight scorer, picked up his fourth foul with 18:46 showing on the clock, to dim the Knights' chances. However, he picked up 10 points and no fouls for the rest of the game.

Adix tattooed the twines for 19 points while Schwarz arched home 8 baskets for 16 points to lead Wartburg. Clay Lyons, forward, also scored 19 to lead the Norsemen, who suffered their eighth conference loss in 10 starts. It was Wartburg's fifth straight win over Luther in two years and its eighth conference win against four setbacks.

Squires Split 2 Games

Squires split in two games last week to up their record to 6 wins and 5 defeats.

Coach Bob Campbell's club fell before the onslaught of a tall and undefeated Iowa Teachers freshman squad, 76-50. Reuben Drefs, 6'4" center, scored 12 points for the Wartburg cause.

Tuesday night Campbell's charges trailed by 15 points before catching fire to win 70-63 over the Luther Jayvee squad. Marv Ott, guard, sparked the Squires' efforts with a 18-point output.

Next Friday, the freshmen are scheduled to meet the Cotta Raiders. The Raiders have compiled a 28-2 record over a three-year period.

Convos Will Have Band, Engelbrecht

Featured at convocations next week will be the Waverly High School Band and a talk by H. C. Engelbrecht, assistant to the college president.

Each year the college and high school have an exchange program for bands. Usually the high school band comes to Wartburg in February and the college band returns the favor in April. The high school band is under the direction of Roland Brom.

Engelbrecht

The program for this year will include:

Illinois March. . .Edwin Franko Goldman
Symphonic Suite. . .Clifton Williams
Intrada-Chorale. . .March
Calypso Joint. . .Kenneth Farrell
Fantasy on American Sailing Songs. . .Clare Grundman
Ballet for Young Americans. . . Ralph Hermann
Ballet Parisien. . .Jacques Offenbach

Thursday, Engelbrecht will speak on the subject of Christians joining together to obtain one common goal in different phases of life for the betterment of man.

Hogan, 3 Students To Music Conference

Miss Mai Hogan, Music Department, and three student members will attend the regional meeting of the Music Teachers National Association in Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 16-18.

Anne von Fischer, Ruth Weidler and Sharon Jacobsen, seniors, are the three student members who will accompany Miss Hogan.

Students Missed

Last week in the Trumpet article about this semester's student teachers, the names of four teaching at Irving School were omitted: Bonnie Lea Walter, Patricia Donahoo, Karen Jo Nagen and Emil Kuebler.

Loslo, Pape Engaged

St. Valentine should have smiled Friday morning.

Bob Loslo, senior, Rantoul, Ill., became engaged to Joan Pape, junior, Waverly, yesterday. Future plans were not announced.

College Debaters Take No. 2 Spot

Wartburg's affirmative debate team placed second in the debate tourney last Saturday at Central College, Pella. The team won three debates and lost one, gaining 53 points out of a possible 60.

Iris Heaney, senior, tallied 55 points out of a possible 60 in the individual scorings.

Participating in the Central tournament were Iris Heaney, senior; Grace Jahn, freshman; Jim Eissinger, sophomore, and John Werner, senior. The next activity for the Wartburg debaters is the Iowa Forensics Association Tournament, to be held at Drake University, Des Moines, March 7 and 8.

Bauer Gets Book

Darrol Bauer, Waverly freshman, was recently awarded first-place honors in the physics achievement award program. Bauer received a Handbook of Chemistry and Physics in the program which is sponsored by the Chemical Rubber Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

Another On Roll

Junior Dick Chellevold, Waverly, has been added to the list of first semester honor roll students, according to word from the registrar's office this week. Chellevold recently recovered from a bout with virus pneumonia, so was unable to complete his tests until now.

LET'S MEET FRIENDS

Not Much This Week — Only 4 Clubs Meeting

by Kathi Hil

The power of the printed word has been proven again. Last week I said something to the effect that the meetings on campus make for quite a whirl. So this week there are only four meetings. (I'm confused — does that prove or disprove me?)

Politics in the air. Monday at 7 p.m. the Young Republicans meet. There will probably be more than politics in the air. It seems that they have had the local representative to the State Legislature scheduled to speak twice before. Each time he didn't make it due to storms, rain, snow, what have you. He is trying again and, elements favorable, Young Republicans will learn about Iowa's legislature. Room 207 of Luther Hall is the meeting place.

Tuesday brings two more meetings. There won't be any conflicts unless we have some German chemists on campus.

Hans Sachs Verein meets that evening. I might stress a point here. Members do not have to be German, German majors or even speak German. They simply must have an interest in and an appreciation of things German. Now you are wondering what things German are. To find out, you will have to be present at 7:30 in Room 100, Old Main.

You chemistry students can grab your test tubes and Bunsen burners and head for the American Chemical Society meeting. Former ('55) grad, Helmuth Gilow, will speak to the group on his personal research and graduate research in general. He is presently working toward a doctorate at the State University of Iowa. That's Grossmann Hall Lounge at 7:15, Tuesday.

Maybe there is a relationship between Hans Sachs and ACS, after all. Gilow was a member of Hans Sachs when he was a student here.

WAA meets every Wednesday evening. I understand they are having tournaments now.

Lent begins Wednesday. St. Paul's held Lenten services twice weekly. College students are urged to attend.

A reminder: There are two evening chapel services. One at 6:15 and the other, 6:45. If you can't make it to the first service, the second one follows. Don't try second chapel on Friday, however. There isn't any.

Anachronism?

Not really. 'Cause if Coke had been around in Caesar's day, Caesar would have treated himself to the sparkling good taste, the welcome lift of Coke! Caesar's motto—"I came, I saw, I conquered." Pretty good motto for Coke too—the prime favorite in over 100 countries today!
